

Solution

The problem can be solved using the A* search algorithm, where each puzzle configuration is treated as a state. The algorithm uses the cost of moves already made and a heuristic estimate of the remaining moves to select the most promising state. The Manhattan distance of the tiles from their goal positions can be used as the heuristic function.