

Problem Statement

The Water Jug problem involves two jugs of different capacities with no measurement markings. The objective is to obtain a specific amount of water by performing operations such as filling a jug, emptying a jug, and transferring water from one jug to another without wasting any water.