

Problem Statement

The Vacuum Cleaner problem is a simple Artificial Intelligence problem in which an intelligent agent moves between two rooms, Room A and Room B, and cleans them whenever they are dirty. The agent must observe the current location and room condition and decide whether to clean the room or move to the other room.