

Solution

The problem is solved using a rule-based intelligent agent. The agent checks its current location and the cleanliness of the room. If the current room is dirty, it performs the Suck action to clean it. If the room is already clean, the agent moves to the other room. The process continues until both rooms are clean.